Lightning shatters windows

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A bolt of lightning struck a pecan tree Saturday in the neighbor's yard of the Roman Plemas family while blasting windows in three bedrooms of the St. John Street residence.

Plemas said, "It was a terrible experience, our five-week-old granddaughter was on the bed in one of the bedrooms and fortunately she was away from the window. Glass was all over the place."

"There was a photo on the wall and the impact broke the glass in the frame and hurled it to the floor," Plemas added.

The family which includes their daughter, son, daughter-in-law, and granddaughter were in the home about 20 feet from the pecan tree, when the lightning struck.

The blast knocked out the telephone, microwave oven, video recorder in addition to the seven windows.

Mrs. Plemas stated, "We are very lucky no one was injured," with Mr. Plemas adding, "I know there is a man upstairs."

On Monday an insurance adjuster was checking the damages and a South Central Bell employee was replacing the telephone line to the residence.

The tree is located on the property of Mrs. Cora Alexander.

Ammo Plant ceremony slated today at NSTL

Senator John C. Stennis will headline the list of federal and state dignitaries at ceremonies today officially dedicating the $479.5 million Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Also participating in the event will be Representative Trent Lott, Fifth District congressman; Joel E. Bonner, assistant secretary of the Army; General Donald R. Keith, commanding general, Army Materiel Development and Readiness Command; Major General B. T. Register Jr., commanding general, Army Armament Materiel Readiness Command; and representatives of other federal, state and local agencies.

The dedication will mark the change from the construction/equipment phase to the prove-out/production phase.

The plant is a government-owned contractor-operated manufacturing facility.

The operating contractor is Mason Chamberlain, Inc.

The plant has the unique capability of producing the complete M43 155mm Improved Conventional Munition (ICM) artillery shell, including the projectile and fuze, and performing the load, assemble and pack process necessary to complete the finished end product.

After conducting exhaustive studies starting in 1971, it was announced on July 11, 1974 that the MSAAP would be sited on the northern half of NSTL.

Later that year, a coordinating committee of several Army organizations was established to design the facility.

The plant was formally established effective Jan. 1, 1978 and groundbreaking ceremonies were held on Jan. 10, 1978. Senator Stennis was the keynote speaker.

Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant is the first ammunition plant to be built by the Army in 30 years.

More seismic work planned for summer

Shell conducts survey offshore from Hancock

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Shell Offshore, Inc. of New Orleans this week completed an oil and gas exploration mission in the Mississippi Sound near Hancock County and the company plans to return this summer to continue offshore studies.

Sarah Colletti, a Shell public affairs representative in New Orleans, Wednesday confirmed the company's seismic vessel named 'The Echo' is en route to Morgan City, La.

'The Echo' this week completed a one month shallow-water survey of the Sound utilizing an 'air gun' seismographic process, she said.

Colletti explained the process utilizes charges of air instead of explosives and the resulting vibrations are recorded for analysis and detection of oil and gas deposits.

She said Shell plans to return the boat to the area sometime in the summer for further survey work.

But the company representative did not know exactly where the surveys were conducted or when the vessel would return.

John Kellis, chief of the State Department of Natural Resources' Geology Mineral Lease Division, Wednesday said all the surveys were conducted along three parallel linear courses extending northeast from the state's three-mile offshore boundary south of the barrier islands.

He reported one Shell exploration track ran about four miles west of Cat Island (south of Hancock) and extended northeasterly to Long Beach.

The two other tracks to the west extended from the boundary to Long Beach and Pass Christian, Kellis revealed.

Kellis said a State Bureau of Marine Resources representative was on board the vessel while the survey was underway to insure none of the charges were exploded over oyster reefs or seagrass beds which is prohibited by state regulations.

Kellis reported the March survey was state-approved in a permit issued by his agency.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Mobile Office issued Shell a Nationwide Permit for the exploration work on Feb. 14, a Corps report indicates.

Nationwide permits are issued for projects in or adjacent to public waterways which the Corps feels will not harm the environment, Corps spokesmen report.

Kellis explained an offshore exploration permit must include the time period and location of work.

"If the work is not finished within that time period, an extension must be obtained," he stated.

Kellis reported Shell will be required to obtain another permit for the proposed summer survey work.

Center director says:

Bay retreat facility gaining popularity

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Director of a religious retreat center at St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis reports the recently opened facility is drawing people from several states.

Rev. John Stoessel, SVD, center director, Tuesday said the facility, located in the renovated Sacred Heart Hall building, is drawing individuals and groups from Alabama, Texas and Louisiana even though the new program has not yet been extensively promoted.

"The response has been amazing," he stated.

The retreat program was initiated last summer after the Divine Word Missionaries ended its high school seminarian program at St. Augustine, he said.

Stoessel noted the hall utilized for student housing as 'the major seminary building' was then available for use as a retreat center.

The two-story brick building built almost 50 years ago can house a maximum of 30 overnight retreat guests in 20 hotel-style rooms and its meeting rooms accommodate 60 for one-day conferences, he explained.

Brothers and priests at the seminary with the assistance of several local residents renovated the hall's interior and installed a central air conditioning system, Stoessel said.

In addition, a nearby wood-frame building was remodeled to provide a snack bar and lounge area including a fireplace, he pointed out during a tour of the facility.

Sacred Heart Hall also contains rooms for prayer, reading, television viewing and smoking, and a chapel.

Stoessel, pointing out the building improvements were financed with grants from Divine Word Missionaries, proudly reported he worked as a carpenter and electrician during the renovations.

He reported further the retreat center is not a money-making endeavor, but rather a facility offered to Christians of all faiths to pray, reflect, listen, study and discuss.

Stoessel said the $15-per-person-per-day fee for lodging and meals will not help recover renovation costs, but he is confident the low fee will eventually pay operating expenses.

"The purpose of the facility is to be of service to the community," he stated.

The order's primary mission is to offer Catholic faith to the poor and oppressed, but religious retreats and workshops are a 'secondary' part of the order's apostolate, Stoessel explained.

Stoessel noted retreat facilities are located throughout the United States.

He said the prime drawing card for the Bay facility is the area's scenic beauty.

The center director also hopes local businessmen will utilize the St. Augustine retreat facilities more.

He said either an individual or group can take advantage of the retreat facility in a variety of programs.

Scheduled events (open experiences) are offered to anyone, but participants are required to stay for the entire program, the director said.

Dates and times of these events are published in local church bulletins, he added.

He noted a three-day 'directed retreat' titled Experience of the Sacred Triduum is being offered beginning today just before noon and ending Easter morning.

The three-day retreat program includes participation in worship services, private prayer and talks, he cited.

Groups sometime rent the facility (closed experiences) and conduct their own retreat program, Stoessel noted.

The center also offers directed retreats for individuals in which a person talks with the center director about his or her life and is asked to pray four hours daily, Stoessel reported.

"Something positive is bound to happen when someone spends that much time praying each day," he stated.

Stoessel said seven rooms are

Two Hancock men arrested

By BREARD SNELLINGS

Two Hancock County residents have been arrested and booked in Florida on charges of kidnapping, armed robbery and aggravated assault.

Brian Wayne Henton of Waveland and Albert Jarrell of Bayside Park were arrested in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. on March 21 by the Okaloosa County Sheriff's Department.

According to a spokesman for the sheriff's department there, both Henton and Jarrell are in the Okaloosa County Jail, under $50,000 bond each.

The spokesman would not reveal the names of the person allegedly kidnapped, or details of the incidents resulting in the arrest and robbery charges.

Arraignment in Okaloosa County is scheduled Monday for both, according to Fort Walton police.

Robert Hughes of the Okaloosa County Sheriff's Department is investigating the case.

Echo publisher tells announcement policy

Sea Coast Echo Publisher Ellis Cuevas this week reported a change in the newspaper's policy on publishing political candidacy announcements.

Cuevas said candidates' announcements this year will be treated as news items and published free of charge, including a one column, head-and-shoulders photo of the candidate.

Announcements should be typed with lines double-spaced, and limited to 500 words.

The written announcements will be accepted subject to editing, the publisher added.

The political announcement text and photo as a rule will appear on an inside page of the newspaper, Cuevas emphasized.

Previously, The Echo published political announcements on Page One. A $10 fee was charged for such items which will no longer be accepted, he explained.

In addition, the Echo will initiate publication of a "List of Candidates" in its April 3 edition.

A $10 fee will be charged to include a candidate's name and the office being sought in that list which will appear weekly until election day in August.

Interior Department to offer wild horses, burros

Wild horses and burros from western public rangelands will soon be looking for new homes with residents of Mississippi and neighboring states when the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management opens a temporary wild horse and burro adoption center in the Jackson area May 4-8.

Approximately 90 wild horses from Wyoming and 75 wild burros from California will be trucked to the Mid-Mississippi Livestock Company show yards in Canton—about 15 miles north of Jackson city limits.

Animal lovers who promise to give good homes to the horses and burros may adopt as many as four animals at the center.

To qualify, applicants must have suitable facilities and means for caring for the animals, and must pay an adoption fee of $165 for each horse and $135 for each burro.

Applications and information about this one-time event are available from the Federal Information Center in Atlanta, at (404) 221-6891, or may be picked up at the Jackson Chamber of Commerce.

The materials may also be picked up in Canton at the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, interested persons may write or call for the materials to the Adopt-A-Horse Program, Bureau of Land Management, 350 South Pickett Street, Alexandria, VA 22304. Telephone: (703) 235-2940.

"Adopters are always needed to help us solve the problem of overpopulation among wild horses and burros on public rangelands," said BLM Eastern States Director G. Curtis Jones Jr.

"But right now we're looking especially for people in Mississippi and neighboring states who would like to take this opportunity to get involved in the program."

According to Jones, some 60 Mississippians already have adopted over 120 wild horses and burros through adoption centers out West and in Tennessee and Nebraska.

Jones said that by bringing animals directly into the state, his agency hopes to make adopting more convenient for people in the area.

Jones explained that under the protection of Federal law, herds of wild horses and burros increase rapidly, and must compete for limited forage and water with native wildlife and domestic livestock that also graze on public lands.

"Even though BLM has found homes for nearly 42,000 excess wild horses and burros," he said, "the populations grow so fast that thousands more must be removed each year in order to prevent serious harm to the range and to the herds themselves."

Most wild horses are found in Nevada, Wyoming, and eastern Oregon, and most wild burros come from Arizona and southern California. Before shipping east, every animal rounded up by BLM is thoroughly checked by a veterinarian, Coggins' tested, and vaccinated for various equine disorders.

"These animals are wild," Jones said, "but they're probably more afraid of humans than people are of them."

With care and patience, he said, wild horses and burros can be tamed and used for riding, breeding, showing, farmwork, or other non-commercial purposes. They require adequate shelter and corral space with sturdy fencing, and adopters should have at least some experience with horses.

Jones explained that adoption fees help cover the Federal Government's cost of roundup, veterinary care, transportation, and administrative expenses. For at least 12 months following the adoption, each animal remains U.S. Government property.

After that, if the animal has been cared for humanely, the adopter may apply to receive title from BLM.

Howats plan Easter fete

Howat families of New Orleans, Clermont Harbor and Shoreline Park will celebrate Easter Saturday and Sunday with a family reunion at "Howat's Place" at Central Avenue and Hwy. 603.

Family members from Arlington Heights, Ill.; Butte, Montana; Biloxi, and New Orleans will be among those expected to attend.

Mass will be celebrated on Sunday morning on the grounds by Rev. Edwin L. Gros, SJ, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gros Sr. of Harahan, La., and grandson of the Louis W. Howats.

Legislating morality often delays attainment of desired objectives

Christianity Investigated
The following article resulted from a grant to the Mississippi Press Association by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not those of either organization.

By MICHAEL HARRINGTON
Department of Philosophy
University of Mississippi

Although Christianity has been the prevailing religious preference for 200 years, the United States has generally avoided incorporation of religious doctrine into a particular Christian group into law.

However, today many Christian fundamentalists demand just this. They are using the legislative process to ban abortions and the ERA, as well as to require public prayer and a literally interpreted Genesis in the public schools.

Clearly they have the freedom to make this effort, but whether we should stand with them is questionable.

It is dangerous for a democratic society to legislate morality when its people are divided upon the moral issue.

It also may be dangerous to that group to require that its dogmas become the creed of all the faithful.

Christian fundamentalists counter by claiming that this country was founded as a Christian nation. But many founding fathers—among them the Adams family, Franklin, Jefferson, and Washington—might be surprised to find themselves grouped among today's fundamentalists when their own beliefs differed so greatly from a belief in a literal interpretation of the Bible.

The First Amendment to the constitution is an attempt to exclude specific religious belief and practice from the public domain of commerce and government. What one believed about the deity of Jesus, the nature of the Trinity, or the inerrancy of the Bible, was considered to be irrelevant for the conduct of public business.

When strong disagreement existed in matters of morality, it was through that government should seek impartiality and avoid preference.

The founding fathers took this approach to the topics of slavery, the legal status of Sundays, and similar issues.

Nonetheless, the ambiguity of the First Amendment reflects a recognition that legal impartiality leads to legal tolerance which some may find intolerable.

Often this intolerance is based on religious premises: e.g., slavery, consumption of alcoholic beverages, equal rights for women, adultery, abortions on demand.

Some persons today assert that when the law fails to condemn what they find immoral, they may use any political means necessary to force their beliefs.

They correctly sense that the absence of legal reinforcement of extreme religious claims may be as destructive to these beliefs as vocal dissent.

The frenzy of many fundamentalists to force public prayer and creationism upon public school children may be a consequence of this realization.

Often in American experience a legal practice has been considered an intolerable evil for some believers.

These believers have responded by using both legal and physical force to end that practice.

Violence has ensued whenever a sufficiently stubborn group has decided to resist a practice which they found unjust.

For example, the abolitionist movement led to civil war; the temperance movement to widespread disobedience and the growth of criminal empires; and the anti-Vietnam movement to greater escalation of the conflict.

To prevent such destructive violence, it is necessary to be able to condemn a legally tolerated practice without seeking some kind of coercion to stop it. The quiet way of rational discussion with opponents is an obvious solution.

Not only does rational discussion prevent feelings that coercion is unjust, it also provides new insights. In contrast, coercion will only insure that the inevitable flaws in the coerced law will ultimately lead to public rejection of its good as well as its errors.

Such was the case with the Prohibition Amendment and could be the fate of proposed anti-abortion and public school prayer amendments.

Such "quick fixes" are not based on pragmatic strategies. They often delay the attainment of good objectives which they desire.

available to married couples making a retreat.

"Whether one is a religious or a lay person, a retreat gives the individual time to reflect on his or her life—what life means and what God means in their lives," he explained.

"I think a retreat is a time to consider where we came from and where we're going," Stoessel added.

On the uniqueness of the St. Augustine program, Father Stoessel feels, "Directed retreats are becoming more common, but some creativity is involved in gathering ideas for these programs."

The director said he designs retreat programs and does maintenance work at the hall.

Stoessel said he was apparently selected to head the local retreat program based on his one year of study at the University of St. Louis in 1973, just before assignment to St. Augustine, in which he studied spirituality, retreats and direction.

He was also a high school counselor in New Jersey, he added.

Stoessel, a Pittsburgh, Pa. native, is assisted by Brother David Noonan, SVD, who takes care of center book-ings, maintenance and clerical work.

The center director said he also receives assistance from all the brothers, priests and nuns at St. Augustine.

Stoessel noted the seminary was founded more than 100 years ago "to help develop the Black Catholic Church" by training young men for the religious life and establishing missions in the U.S. and overseas.

He emphasizes the retreat facility is open to males and females of all races and Christian faiths.

Dobson announces for Justice Court

Joseph (Joe) Dobson of Bay St. Louis has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice Court judge, East Hancock County.

JOE DOBSON

There will be only two Justice Court Judges elected from Hancock County this year, as opposed to five in the last general election.

The County Board of Supervisors recently decided to go to a two-judge system for Dobson, a construction worker, is a graduate of Carriere High School and has completed two years of study at Louisiana State University.

He also served five years in the United States Air Force. Dobson's previously held political offices include constable, District 4, 1968-71; justice of the peace, District 2, 1972-76; and Justice Court judge District 4, 1976-79.

Dobson opposed Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson four years ago.

"Having served as a judge in Hancock for eight years, I feel as though I can be of useful service to the people of this county," said Dobson.

Justice Court, rather than have five judges, with one from each supervisory district.

The dividing line between east and west for the selection of judges starts at the Hancock County-Pearl River county line and runs down Hwy. 603 to Nicholson Avenue and the city limits between Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

Uninsured Losses

Certain events involving the loss or damage of uninsured property can result in a substantial amount of debt. Some typical events are listed below:

—Auto Accidents: The uninsured motorist may sustain personal property loss in the form of damage to his/her own car. Other liability may be assessed for damage to property to another auto.

—Fire: Personal property may be destroyed in a fire.

—Theft: If personal property insurance is not in force, a home burglary or theft of a car may result in a substantial loss. The victim may need to go into debt to replace needed items.

Many items of property may be replaced with used or donated items until money can be saved for the purchase of new replacements. It may be best to do without some items until one's financial condition permits their replacement.

Solutions — For the individual or family already beset by financial problems uninsured losses may be a serious blow. If property must be replaced, an alternative is to go to such groups as the Salvation Army, Goodwill, or other organizations and groups and request that used items be donated to replace things that the family cannot afford to replace.

If a home is damaged, the community may have a program to help families make needed repairs. Churches may also be approached for aid in crisis situations of this type.

There is, however, only one long-term solution to this problem. The family budget should be revised to provide for adequate insurance to cover any future losses of this type; and/or an adequate emergency fund.

Repairs — People whose financial life is lived on a hand-to-mouth basis, who never set aside any money for emergencies, may be hard pressed when repairs to their property are necessary. Some of the kinds of problems that can occur are as follows:

- The car breaks down.
- The refrigerator quits working.
- The furnace won't heat.
- The house needs a new roof.
- Some electrical wiring burns up and must be replaced.

Solutions — If the problem is an immediate crisis, such as a furnace not working during a cold winter, various emergency assistance programs should be contacted to determine if they can help.

Quotables by Cuevas

We have noted where the State Legislature has passed a drunk-driving bill this week.

In conversation with Governor William Winter Wednesday he stated the bill was 'watered-down' by the House of Representatives before passage.

The new bill which apparently will receive the governor's signature will go into law on July 1.

Even with the watered-down version, it is our understanding there will be a stiffer penalty for drunken-drivers, and this is something many folks are supporting.

We do have to commend our senators for wanting a real good drunk-driving law.

This sure is a busy week for us with so many important happenings in Hancock County.

Wednesday we had the dedication of the Borg-Warner Chemical Plant at Port Bienville and today will have the dedication of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL.

Some early risers will also be participating in the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition at the LaVilla Restaurant in Waveland at 7:30 a.m. today.

And we still have the Easter Sunrise Service Sunday in addition to several other happenings.

Looks like we cannot have over three days without rain, as this must be the wettest three months in history for Hancock County.

Come June and July, we will be hoping for moisture.

Many gardeners have had plants washed away several times as well as seeds drowning.

We hope the weather will get better.

Many poisoning mishaps involve young children

Every day about 40 Mississippians get poisoned. Many of them are young children.

Fifty to 75 Mississippi people die each year in accidents involving hazardous substances. Many of these unnecessary accidents and deaths can be prevented when responsible adults examine and poison-proof their homes.

The Mississippi State Department of Health and the Mississippi Public Health Association (MPHA) are joining forces to encourage awareness of possible hazards around the home and to inform parents on ways to poison-proof their homes.

When poisoning emergencies occur, help is available through the Region 1 Poison Information and Control Center, which helps individuals and health professionals deal with poisoning.

"Parents must make the home safe for children who are curious explorers," said Wade Spruill Jr., MPHA president. "The responsibility is one worth knowing about and remembering, especially since victims of accidental poisoning are most often children under five years old."

Because the bathroom poses special hazards, adults should clean medicine cabinets regularly, flush away old medicine, and examine the bottles for safety top containers. They can assure that cosmetics are in marked containers well out of reach of children.

Parents can make the kitchen safer for children. They should remove household products and pesticides from under the sink, move medicines to a safe location, and assure that all household products are in the original safety top containers.

Since safety packaging was introduced, ingestions of aspirin have declined by 65 percent, lighter fluids by 74 percent, oven cleaners and other lye preparations by 68 percent, antifreeze solutions by 61 percent, and paint solvent by 55 percent.

"Make sure all detergents, bleaches, fabric softeners, and household cleaners are in proper containers in cabinets or on shelves," Spruill emphasized.

Weed killers, insect sprays, and other gardening products pose a hazard to curious children. Parents should store these in a locked storage cabinet along with paints, gasoline, and other automotive products.

Alcoholic beverages, tobacco (even that in ashtrays), lighters and lighter fluid also threaten children and should be kept out of their reach.

Because many common plants are poisonous, parents should know the name of all plants in the home and make sure they are out of the children's reach.

Responsible adults need to know what emergency action to take in case of a poisoning. They need to know the telephone number of the Poison Control Center, the local physician, ambulance, and police department.

Emergency response guidelines for:
—Inhaled poison — Immediately get the person to fresh air. Avoid breathing fumes. Open doors and windows wide. If the victim is not breathing, start artificial respiration.

—Poison on the skin — Remove contaminated clothing and flood skin with water for 10 minutes. Then wash gently with soap and water and rinse.

—Poison in the eye — Flood the eye with lukewarm (not hot) water poured from a large glass two or three inches from the eye. Repeat for 15 minutes. Have patient blink as much as possible while flooding the eye. Do not force the eyelid open.

—Swallowed poison — Unless patient is unconscious, having convulsions, or cannot swallow — give milk or water immediately then call for professional advice about whether you should make the patient vomit.

For more information about poison prevention, readers may contact the Regional Poison Information and Control Center, University of Mississippi Medical Center, 2500 North State, Jackson, MS 39216.

JOURNALISTS NAMED TO QUESTION CANDIDATES

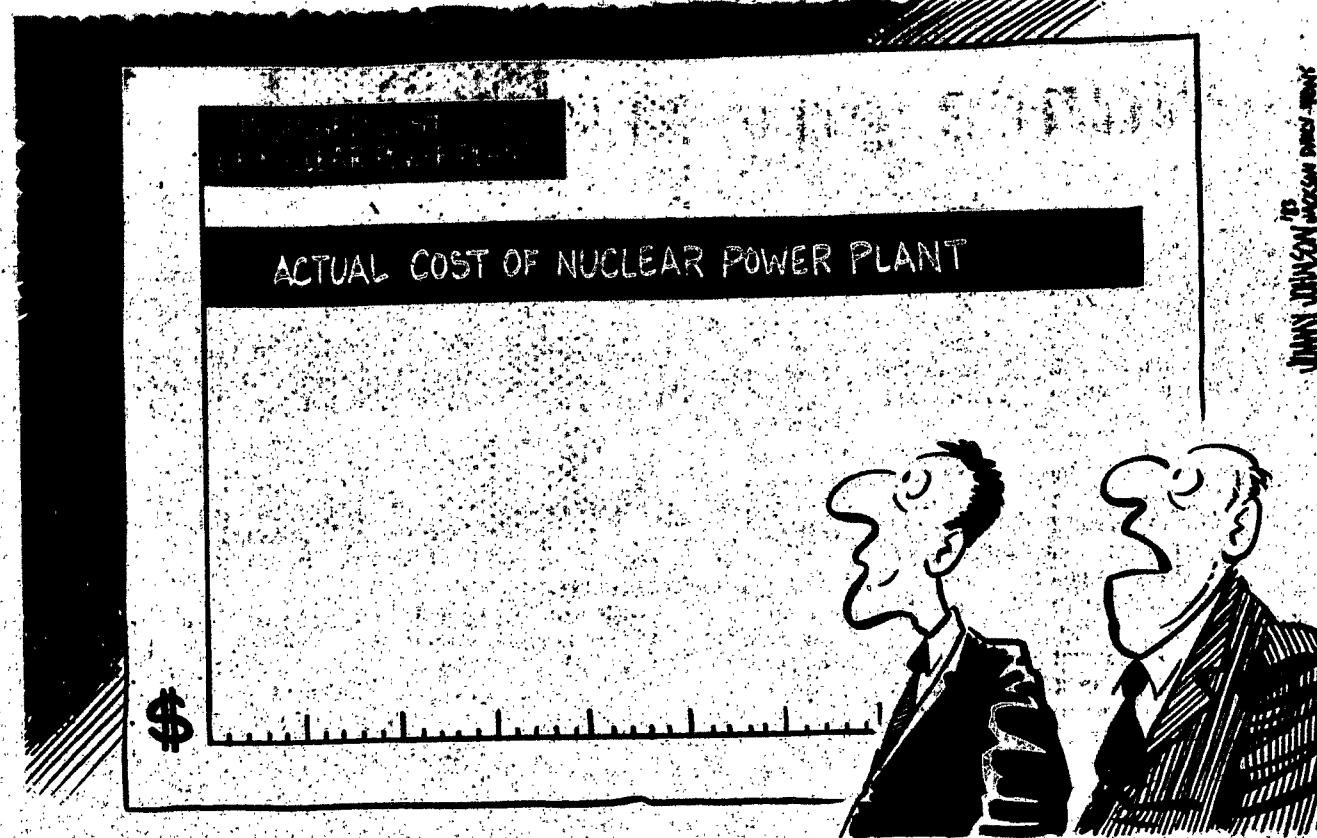

Three veteran Mississippi journalists will question candidates for Mississippi governor at an April 7 meeting of the candidates, their first face-to-face gathering with the news media in the 1983 gubernatorial campaign.

Candidates for governor will be appearing at the afternoon session of the Annual Membership Meeting of the Mississippi Economic Council, the state chamber of commerce. The session will be held at the Holiday Inn Downtown, Jackson.

Journalists who will question the candidates are Charles Dunagin, editor of the McComb Enterprise-Journal; Bert Case, night anchor and reporter for WLBT-TV News, Jackson; and Lloyd Gray, managing editor of the Sun-Herald newspapers on the Coast.

Scheduled for an address during the April 7 MEC luncheon is Ted Koppel, anchor man on ABC-TV News' "Nightline Report." Koppel, who formerly served as ABC News' chief foreign correspondent, has won various awards for his reporting, including an Emmy Award in 1980.

This year's MEC meeting will include a debate on public school consolidation. Additional information on the annual MEC session is available at the Council offices in Jackson, 969-0022.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

Senator Cochran applauded for efforts to repeal withholding tax on savings

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,
When I realized the potential damage threatening the business and industrial world and the individuals to which the 10 percent withholding tax on income earned on interest and dividends I was, and am, apprehensive.

We paid taxes on our income, taxes from our corporations and then taxes on our dividends and interest-triple taxation and now we are to be denied the use of our hard earned money while the denizens on the banks of the Polluted Potomac have millions more to waste.

Usurpers of handicapped parking spaces called 'ignorant, selfish and lazy'

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,
I am writing to those people — perfectly healthy people — who park in spaces reserved for the handicapped.

You should be thankful for your healthy legs that take you where you want to go, and to the car that gets you where you want to go.

It really isn't that much trouble to walk five or ten feet further. I've noticed that a lot of you could use the exercise.

You don't realize how difficult it is for handicapped people to get around. They need the space to open doors WIDE, so that they can get out.

And once they get out, whether they use a wheelchair or walk with braces, they don't need the extra walk that your greed and laziness necessitates.

It took hours of therapy and practice for them to learn to use whatever aids they have just to get around, and still not as easily as you who can walk unaided.

Yes, sometimes those spots are empty and stay that way. Does that give you the excuse to park there just because it's empty and close? I'd hate to be the handicapped person who watched you while I parked somewhere else.

And there's another point: some of the handicapped people you deny this small courtesy got that way fighting for your rights. Is it fair to ask them to give you even more?

There is no excuse for this. Even if you can't read, the symbol is readily

The paper work involved will cost business multi-millions of dollars and accumulate tons of waste paper, laughingly known as required book-keeping.

I took the liberty of writing our congressional delegation and Senator Cochran replied.

Thank God he is trying to help us common folks. We should all give him our maximum support and reverse the actions of the Liberal, Socialistic minority in Congress by repealing this assinine tax law.

Sincerely,
Sidney Watson O.D.
Diamondhead

understood. And if you can't see it, you're too blind to drive.

People who park in handicapped parking and don't belong there are ignorant, selfish, and lazy. They should be served a court summons, and from there be sentenced to live in a wheelchair for one day.

That could be all it would take for them to find out why it's necessary to have special spaces for the handicapped, and ramps, and all that "stuff."

They'd see how hard it is to get in and out of a wheelchair, and to get that wheelchair in and out of a car.

I know this letter won't do a lot of good, because there are all kinds of excuses for those thoughtless people, but if it makes just one person stop parking in handicapped parking when it isn't needed, it'll help.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Tina Secret
Bay St. Louis

INDICATORS SUGGEST ECONOMIC RECOVERY IS UNDERWAY

If small business is an indicator of economic trends, the recovery is underway.

Small business optimism reached its highest level in five years during the quarter ending Jan. 30. That is the conclusion contained in the Quarterly Economic Report of Small Business just released by the National Federation of Independent Business. In the opinion of the small-business owners responding, the economy will improve substantially in 1983.

The survey indicates a substantial jump in investment activity for inventories and plant and equipment. The number of businesses planning to add inventory increased four points to 19 percent, the highest figure recorded in any quarter since 1979. The number of those planning to reduce inventories dropped from 18 percent in October to just 12 percent in January.

Despite a net increase, inventories at most smaller firms are still lean. Therefore, new sales will result in almost immediate orders to factories and suppliers.

The percentage of firms planning major capital investments increased by five percentage points in January. This activity can be attributed to falling interest rates and a general improvement in the business outlook. Average interest rates paid by small businesses on short-term loans are down to 14.1 percent from 15.4 percent in the third quarter.

The outlook for inflation is also excellent. Only 22 percent of the firms responding to the NFIB survey said they plan to increase prices. Excess operating capacity and decreasing wage demands are expected to keep prices stable during 1983.

Even the job picture is brighter. Fourteen percent of the small-business owners said they plan to increase employment in the next three months. Only eight percent plan to cut employment further. The first-quarter employment projection has not been this optimistic since January 1979.

Economists William Dunkelberg of Purdue University and Jonathan Scott of Southern Methodist University conducted the study. They point out that in the final quarter of 1982, job openings remained at an all-time low: Only 9 percent of the firms responding had openings.

The economists add, "Small businesses will do relatively little hiring in anticipation of the recovery, but with low 'stocks' of labor, firms will have to hire immediately in order to handle increased business."

While small-business owners have been hoping for economic recovery for a long time, these economic indicators suggest they now are ready to put their money where their hopes are.

(Wilson S. Johnson is president of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.)

IN CONGRESS

By Cong.
Trent Lott

ATTACK ON PROGRESS

The Easter season seems to bring out the best in Washington, but the worst in Congress and two events are virtual certainties — the blossoms begin to appear on the cherry trees around the Jefferson Memorial, and budget debate begins in Congress.

This year, the budget debate came early in the House and what finally emerged was a half-baked, ill-considered scheme steamrolled to passage by liberal Democrats. In short, it was a radical attack on two years of economic progress.

Consider these figures from the budget drawn under the watchful eye of House Speaker Thomas P. (Tip) O'Neill:

* Taxes would be raised by $315 billion over the next five years, which means an additional $3,500 burden on every American taxpayer.

* Ten major new spending programs would be launched with a price tag of $62 billion.

* Defense spending would be cut by $163 billion.

Why do I describe it as a radical attack on two years of economic progress? It causes everything to go the wrong way at the same time. Taxes, domestic spending and the deficit all go up; national security comes down.

If this plan becomes final, which I certainly hope it doesn't, the net tax reductions enacted over the last two years would become practically meaningless.

The proposed tax increases would fall most heavily on lower and middle income taxpayers because the tax cut scheduled for July would be cancelled.

This Democrat plan was nothing more than an effort to get and spend more of the people's money, just the opposite of what the President and like-minded conservatives in Congress have been trying to do.

Frankly, I was disappointed with the House's passage of this budget resolution, and not only because it was so blatantly political.

Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan called the budget plan "an irresponsible blueprint for higher taxes and more spending which would, if adopted, abort the economic recovery." He went on to say higher taxes on the working people of America will not solve economic budget problems.

The recently-released measure of inflation showed that inflation has risen 2.4 percent. Unemployment has been coming down and the economy is growing.

I hope we can reject the blue-ribbon of this budget plan and deal realistically with the economic problems remaining to be faced.

Would Founding Fathers' 'Natural Law' countenance gay rights?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, entitled 'Homosexuality, Constitutional Law And The Natural Order' by Philip Jaffa, a Washington based journalist, is furnished to The Sea Coast Echo by Public Research Syndicated of Clermont, Calif.

Theme: In the view of one congressman, the natural goodness of homosexuality has been uncovered by the modern science of psychology and by certain religious traditions.

By PHILIP JAFFA
Should lesbians and gay men have the right to come out of the closet? Should they have the right to show affection in public, demand public acceptance, and seek converts?

Many communities and employers are wrestling with this issue. According to material printed in the Congressional Record, 43 cities and counties and one state have passed laws forbidding discrimination against homosexuals.

The federal Civil Service — although not the military, FBI, or CIA — has also adopted anti-discrimination rules protecting lesbians and gay men.

While there is an active group arguing that homosexuals should have the right to come out of the closet, some observers contend that such a right already exists — guaranteed by the Constitution.

Discrimination against lesbians and gay men, these observers say, is a violation of the First Amendment guarantee of freedom of speech.

Representative Ted Weiss of New York, for example, recently stated in the Congressional Record that lesbians and gay men have a First Amendment right to promote and defend homosexuality.

"Gay rights has been viewed primarily as a privacy issue in the past," said Rep. Weiss. "Yet," he continued,

"It is also imperative that homosexual men and women be allowed to publicly and freely express themselves without fear of losing their jobs or homes."

Representative Weiss then inserted in the Record an article by Ronald Gold in defense of homosexual rights, commending it to his colleagues in the House.

Whatever the current status of homosexuality, many question whether the Founding Fathers meant to protect the sexual conduct of lesbians and gay men.

The Founding Fathers believed in the doctrine of natural law, and homosexuality was generally considered contrary to the laws of nature and nature's God.

The doctrine of natural law holds that governments are instituted among men to secure the inalienable rights of mankind. Civil rights — like freedom of speech or religion — are derivative.

To the extent they violate mankind's inalienable or natural rights, they are impermissible.

According to natural law teaching, since all men are created equal, there is no requirement to permit Nazis to stand up and say that Jews and blacks are inferior human beings (although ignoring Nazis, and drawing as little attention as possible, is usually the most prudent way of dealing with them.)

Nor is there a requirement to permit the "religious" practice of polygamy — which is really a statement that women are inferior human beings. No one is "free" to use speech and religion to undermine the inalienable, natural rights of men.

For the Founding Fathers, the validity of civil rights did indeed involve a judgment about consistency with the natural order.

Curiously, although modern civil libertarians argue that virtually all speech is free speech, whether or not it is good for the public, Ronald Gold — and presumably Representative Ted Weiss — do not.

Ronald Gold states quite clearly that homosexuality isn't a "questionable" view that deserves protection because all questionable views deserve protection. Rather, homosexuality is a positive good in the natural order.

The reason lesbians and gay men are discriminated against is a familiar one: society, the family, and particularly children must be "protected" from a harmful point of view. And the reason that this assault has been so successful is that many people who think of themselves as civil libertarians share the New Right's fears.

They don't think it's right for gay people to be discriminated against, but they too are afraid of somebody telling their children it's okay to be gay. The only way this situation can fundamentally be changed is when a majority of the people in the country can sincerely say to themselves, "It is okay to be gay — even for my children. And the only way that that can happen is when the truth about gay people is available to every child in the land."

Ronald Gold — and presumably Rep. Weiss — don't really like the civil libertarians who say "anything goes — even homosexuality."

What is good and moral for mankind, individually and collectively, is indeed the crucial question.

The idea that homosexuality is wrong, says Gold — and presumably Rep. Weiss — "...contradicts" the prevailing views of the medical profession and a major segment of organized religion on the psychology and morality of being gay.

Children should be instructed early and often on homosexuality because it is good to be lesbian or gay.

The Founding Fathers may not have found homosexuality to be consistent with the laws of nature and nature's God, but the homosexual community itself does.

And at least one Congressman seems to agree. In their view, the natural goodness of homosexuality has been uncovered by the modern science of psychology and by certain religious denominations.

There is a supreme irony in all this: For Ron Gold, Congressman Ted Weiss, and the Founding Fathers, the dispute over homosexuality, it seems, isn't a matter of mere Constitutional interpretation. Homosexuality is defensible if — but only if — what had been called "a crime against nature" is in fact perfectly natural.

Aerobic dancercise program expands to three locations

Aerobic Dancercise instructors will soon begin holding classes at three locations in Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Aerobic Dancercise is a fitness program striving for cardiovascular fitness through choreographed exercise.

Other benefits of the program can be weight control and reduction, stronger muscles and more flexible joints, reduced tension and psychological stress, increased energy and an enhanced concept of self.

The Aerobic Dancercise Corporation was founded in June, 1980 in Baton Rouge and expanded to New Orleans in March, 1981.

Marcia Engelmann of Diamondhead opened the corporation's first franchise in the Bay-Waveland area in July, 1982.

Her first class had 15 students and has grown to a current enrollment of 125 students with four instructors.

Aerobic Dancercise offers six-week sessions, meeting hourly twice a week.

Each one-hour class includes warm-ups with hand-held ropes and weights; pulse-monitored aerobic workouts done to the can-can, Charleston, rock, country and other dance steps; cool downs with modern ballet; and floor exercises for spot toning.

Each six-week session has original and new routines, and features discussion, tension relievers and relaxation techniques.

The aerobic classes are not limited to women. The program also features a "Mostly Men" class, geared to singles and couples.

The next Monday and Wednesday session of the Aerobic Dancercise program will begin April 11 in the St. Augustine Gym in Bay St. Louis.

Tuesday and Thursday sessions will open April 12 at St. Clare Parish Hall, Waveland, and also at Miramar Lodge in Pass Christian.

Further information concerning the classes or registration may be obtained by calling Nanette Passarella, 467-1387 (days); Becky Keith, 467-2315 (days); Pam Griffin, 452-2992 (evenings); or Marcia Engelmann, 255-3390 (evenings).

MARCIA ENGELMANN of Diamondhead, Aerobic Dancercise instructor, performs one of the rope-hold warm-up exercises of the program which promotes total body fitness through choreographed exercise.

Library events listed

Ms. Linda Schmitt, director of the Pass Christian Library, reports the following activities are currently scheduled at the Hiern Avenue facility:

Free Stitchery Classes will be held at the library as scheduled: 1st class, April 5, Counted Cross Stitch (Charted); 2nd Class, April 12, Basic Needlepoint (Cotton & Plastic Canvas); 3rd Class, April 19, Crewel Embroidery (Persian Wood Yarn) and 4th Class, Trapunto Quilting (European).

All classes will be held Tuesday afternoons, 1-3 p.m.

Ms. Dedi Ballantini, instructor urges that anyone interested in any or all of the classes should pre-register.

Art Show this month consists of water colors and oils by Elizabeth Vest of Bay St. Louis.

Display Case contains post cards depicting the Austro-Hungarian Empire before World War I. Post cards were loaned by Bertha Gianl.

A tadpole aquarium has been set up by Ms. Susan McCloskey, the Children's Librarian. Story time is Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m.

New books include 'Fishbein's Illustrated Medical and Health Encyclopedia', 'The Stroud of Turin', 'Things My Children Are Teaching Me', 'How to Get Free Tax Help', 'Pay Less Tax Legally', and 'Everybody's Guide to Tax Shelters.'

Also, 'How to Win Custody', 'Gordon's Modern Annotated Forms of Agreement', 'What Kinds of Guns Are They Buying for Your Butler?', 'How It Feels to Be Adopted', 'The Space Shuttle Operator's Manual', 'The Chadwick System: Discovering the Perfect Hairstyle for You', 'Your Child's Self-esteem', 'All About the Family', 'Creative Parenting', 'Living with a Narcissist', 'How to Deal with a Divorcing Spouse', and 'How to Deal with a Baby to Swim.'

Federal retirees discuss proposed system changes

Some 300 Federal Civil Service employees and retirees from the Gulf Coast area attended recent "Save Our Retirement" rally at Biloxi's Community Center.

Speakers traced the history of both the Civil Service Retirement System and the Social Security System, comparing the objectives and costs of both.

The rally was sponsored by Coast Federal Employee organizations, including National Federation of Federal Employees, American Federation of Government Employees, Postal Service Unions, and others.

The meeting was chaired by Louis Barse, vice president, National Federation of Federal Employees.

The Civil Service Retirement System is a total retirement program for career Federal employees while Social Security was designed as a supplement to other retirement.

Costs to Federal employees have always exceeded cost of Social Security to employees, the speakers emphasized.

Recent action in congress would do little to help "bail out" Social Security, but would do much harm to the excellent Civil Service Retirement system, which has been pointed out as an example for industry to emulate, they said.

"Why put a good apple in a barrel of bad apples?" was a question raised by one speaker. Other speakers urged contacts with members of Congress to express their concerns about changes in the Federal Retirement System.

Federal retirees hope Congress will not destroy a retirement system that it developed over the past 63 years.

Any problems with Civil Service Retirement could be traced to Congress not providing the funds required by law in years past, and to inflation over the past ten years.

Speakers included Herbert Anderson, regional vice president, National Association of Retired Federal Employees; Bob Vinall, president, Gulf

Breeze Chapter NARFE; John Montgomery, Fifth Congressional District representative, NARFE; and Louis Barse, vice president, Keesler AFB Chapter, National Federal Employees.

4-H volunteers work in Olympics

By JOY CANTRELL
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

The starter's pistol shouts its tiny puff of smoke and the runners are off; arms and legs pumping, neck muscles stretched tight, eyes fixed on the finish line.

At the finish line Sally Hunt, 4-H volunteer in Panola County, urges her club members toward victory.

"If I'm there at the finish line to yell and cheer them on, they'll come out a winner every time," Mrs. Hunt said.

Providing support during events such as special olympics is really important to the children, according to Mrs. Hunt.

Being able to recognize the needs of handicapped individuals, and children in special education classes, has resulted from four years of work with 4-H clubs.

"My son, an athlete at Northwest Junior College, came home one weekend and shared with me his involvement with the special olympic events on campus," Mrs. Hunt said. "He suggested I look into the special olympics on the local level as a project because help was greatly needed."

As a result Mrs. Hunt decided to form a 4-H club for the special education classes at Pope Elementary School.

"Jo Magness and I met with Dr. Broome, the principal at the school, to share our plans and gain his approval for the club for these children," Mrs. Hunt said. "He readily agreed to the club's meeting during school hours as often as necessary."

The Liberty Hill Homemakers club provides

Mrs. Hunt with the financial support for the children's involvement in 4-H projects, trips to the special olympics and an annual field trip.

Mrs. Hunt said the programs have offered many benefits to these children. With support of homemakers the program has met many needs.

"One of our projects has been to set up a classroom library for the children," Mrs. Hunt said. "This has encouraged the children's reading since they did not often get the opportunity to visit the school library."

Mrs. Hunt finds it easy to adapt many of the 4-H project materials to meet the special needs of the children in the Bulldogs 4-H Club. Many of their regular classroom activities are reinforced through the 4-H programs in creative and fun ways.

Learning weights and measures through food and nutrition projects, counting and coordination through dividing and braiding skeins of yarn in an arts and crafts project are a few examples. Other topics that have interested the children have been bicycle and pedestrian safety, personal hygiene and table manners.

"We had a program on letter writing for one meeting," Mrs. Hunt said. "It was a special effort to teach them to express themselves."

A trip to a national 4-H leader forum "Reaching Out to Disabled Youth" resulting from her work with the special education classes, has helped Mrs. Hunt understand the life of handicapped individuals.

After visiting Gallaudet College, a school for the deaf, in Washington, D.C. during the forum, Mrs. Hunt came to the conclusion that everyone is handicapped in some way.

During our visit to the college, I realized what it was like to be handicapped," she said. "We participated in discussion groups where two or three of us tried to communicate with deaf students. We were the ones at a disadvantage."

The students showed us that we need to try to understand more fully what life is like for a handicapped person, before we try to change our world to what we think they need, Mrs. Hunt said.

As a result of her participation in the national forum, Mrs. Hunt has shared her experiences with other 4-H volunteers through workshops in the state.

"There's a great need for volunteers," Mrs. Hunt said. "One volunteer can only do so much."

It is a rewarding experience after working with these children to receive thank-you letters from them expressing their thanks for the time given them, Mrs. Hunt said.

Mrs. Hunt has discovered several techniques that help when working with the Bulldogs 4-H club members. Using a flip chart of newspaper is one technique.

TV Brief

CANCER WINNERS

Three Americans who survived cancer to regain active lives will be the subject of "Cancer: The Winners," to be aired Thursday, March 31 at 8:05 p.m. with a repeat at 10:35 p.m. on Hancock Cable ch. 7.

The program, which is the third annual to be co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society, the National Cable Television Association and Turner Broadcasting Systems, will also air over several other national cable systems during the first week of April.

Profiled will be Cleveland radio personality Reta Blumberg, mountain guide Glenn Exum, and American League umpire Bill Kunkel.

Blumberg had a mastectomy five years ago, followed by two years of intensive chemotherapy when it was discovered that the breast cancer had metastasized.

Exum, in his 70's climbed the Grand Tetons again, one year after surgery for prostate cancer, on the 50th anniversary of his first ascent.

Bill Kunkel was operated on for colorectal cancer in the fall of 1981 and was back behind the plate for the 1982 season.

Their stories, told through filmed reports and in-studio interviews, are examples of the advances being made in treating and rehabilitating cancer patients today.

The show will be hosted by Bob Neal, WTBS broadcast personality. Joining Neal in the interview segments will be Willis J. Taylor, M.D., president of the American Cancer Society.

Brightly-colored Easter eggs can lend a festive air to your holiday celebrations and make for good, nutritious eating at the same time.

Have an egg salad sandwich, egg salad sandwich, egg salad sandwich. Seasoned with flavorful meats or cheeses and garnish with crisp lettuce, celery or cucumbers, egg sandwiches can lead you on a search to as you look for just the right combination of breads, spreads and other ingredients to make your perfect sandwich.

Here are a few hints on buying and preparing eggs that should help your Easter egg season go smoothly.

When buying eggs, look for the USDA grademark which lets you know the interior quality of the egg and the appearance and condition of the shell. The higher the grade, the higher the yolk and white of the egg will stand when broken out of the shell. U.S. Grades AA and A are the most attractive, but U.S. Grade B is equally fine for colorful Easter eggs.

The labeled size of eggs actually describes the weight of a dozen eggs, not the physical dimensions of the eggs. Large eggs weigh 24 ounces per dozen, Extra Large, 27 ounces and Medium eggs 21 ounces. By calculating the cost per ounce, you can find just the right buy.

For hard cooking, choose those eggs which have been in the refrigerator the longest — or buy them several days ahead of time. When hard-cooked they will be easier to peel.

Put a single layer of eggs in a saucepan, add enough water to cover the eggs, about one inch, and bring water to a boil. Cover the pan, remove it from the heat and let it stand 15 minutes. Cool the eggs promptly in cold water.

This will also help make the eggs easier to peel and will help prevent green discoloration between the yolk and white. This discoloration is only a harmless chemical reaction between the sulfur in the white and the iron in the yolk.

To color eggs, put about one-half cup of water in a small container like a custard cup or cereal dish. Add one envelope of a fruit flavored drink powder and stir until dissolved. Place a hard-cooked egg on a slotted spoon (a spoon with holes in it) and carefully lower it into the water. Slowly move the egg around in the water until it reaches the desired color. Use the spoon to remove the egg and place it on a paper towel to dry.

Crayons suitable for use with foods can be used to draw pictures or write names on the egg before putting it into the colored water.

And remember that while-shelled eggs take coloring better than brown eggs.

Once the Easter eggs are gathered, it's time to prepare the egg sandwiches.

To peel a hard-cooked egg, first tap it gently on a hard surface to crack the shell. Then gently roll it between your hand and the hard surface or between both hands to crackle the shell all over. Peel the shell off and slice or chop the egg. Then, choose your other favorite ingredients to make into a sandwich.

A wide variety of breads, spreads and other ingredients can enliven an egg sandwich. Choose from the following for your own special sandwich:

Breads — whole wheat, rye, enriched white, oatmeal, onion rolls.

Spreads — mayonnaise, salad dressing, butter, margarine, mustard.

Meats — sliced cooked corn beef, ham, turkey, chicken, roast beef, deviled ham or sandwich spreads.

Vegetables — lettuce, tomatoes, onions, celery, cucumber.

Cheeses — sliced or spreads.

Remember, too, the wise ways of handling food with clean hands and utensils and refrigerating leftovers. Food left standing at room temperature can foster the growth of bacteria which can cause food poisoning — particularly when eggs are mixed with dressing.

PICKLED EGGS
6 cups vinegar (white)
5 teaspoons salt
10 tablespoons sugar
1 Jalapeno pepper, sliced
1 medium onion, sliced
30 whole cloves
4 cloves garlic, peeled
4 dozen hard-cooked eggs, peeled

Pour vinegar, sugar and salt into saucepan. Drop in Jalapeno pepper, onion, garlic and cloves. Simmer 5 minutes. Pour over eggs in a glass or enamel container. Refrigerate several days before using.

Note: after eggs and vinegar solution cool, they may be placed in plastic gallon jug for refrigerator storage. It is best not to pour hot liquid in plastic jug until cooled. Recipe makes 1 gallon.

BURRIED TREASURES
¼ cup butter
3 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
Dash hot sauce
2 cups cooked rice
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
6 hard-cooked eggs

Melt butter; blend in flour, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Stir in milk and hot sauce all at once; heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir until mixture is smooth and thickened. Combine white sauce with cooked rice and ¼ cup cheese.

Place half of mixture into well-greased 12 x 12 x 2-inch baking dish. Cut eggs in half lengthwise; press into rice mixture cut-side down. Sprinkle eggs with chives. Cover with remaining sauce and cheese. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 15 minutes or until cheese is melted. Garnish with parsley if desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

CHEESEY SKILLET SUPPER
1 can (11 oz.) condensed cheddar cheese soup, undiluted
2 cups (4 oz.) uncooked egg noodles, cooked and drained
1½ tablespoons chopped chives
6 hard-cooked eggs, wedged
12 cherry tomatoes, halved or 2 tomatoes, wedged

Heat soup in 10-inch skillet over medium heat, stirring constantly until bubbly. Stir in noodles and chives. Gently fold in eggs and tomatoes. Cover; simmer 5 minutes, or until of serving temperature. Makes 3-4 servings.

Place half of mixture into well-greased 12 x 12 x 2-inch baking dish. Cut eggs in half lengthwise; press into rice mixture cut-side down. Sprinkle eggs with chives. Cover with remaining sauce and cheese. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 15 minutes or until cheese is melted. Garnish with parsley if desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal control.

In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgement, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion.

Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by individuals. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

We understand that procedures in conformity with the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the Board of Supervisors to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the provisions of Sections 31-7-101 through 31-7-129 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 as amended, and that procedures not in conformity therewith indicate inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our review, in our opinion the purchasing records and internal accounting control procedures of the Purchase Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi, during the period of October 1, 1981 through September 30, 1982, were adequate for the purpose of the Board of Supervisors and were in substantial compliance with the requirements of Sections 31-7-101 through 31-7-129 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 as amended.

Our review included tests of compliance with such procedures during the period from October 1, 1981, through September 30, 1982.

Our tests included, but were not limited to, testing of paid invoices in the Chancery Clerk's office and inspection on a test basis of the minutes of the Board of Supervisors. Our testing of transactions randomly selected from the claims docket in the Chancery Clerk's office encompassed 123 requisitions, or approximately twenty percent (20%) of the total number of requisitions processed through the Purchase Clerk's office during the year.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgements by responsible officials.

Cooking Up A Storm

By Katy McGuire Caire

Eggs, the symbol of Spring and rebirth from earliest times, were viewed by the early Christians as a mark of the Resurrection, and were a very important part of the Easter feast, since the use of eggs was forbidden in Lent in those days.

Spring is a happy time for people of all religions, as Christians celebrate the Resurrection and those of Jewish faith celebrate Passover, as religion and nature come together in glorious rebirth.

The ancient Persians, history tells us, were the first to dye eggs in bright colors, and the Egyptians and Chinese followed them, brightening up their festivals of Spring, symbolizing birth and new life.

And, late in the thirteenth century, King Edward I of England — at least, I'm almost sure it was he — commanded that 400 eggs be boiled and covered in gold leaf, so that he might present them to his household staff at Easter!

Well, I'm not expecting any gold leaf eggs in my Easter basket, are you? I'll settle for an Easter egg hunt of brightly colored eggs — with the grandsons — perhaps I can beat the youngest, five-year-old Holland Breath McGuire, at hunting eggs — so far, he's soundly trounced me at Pac-Man... and even Battle!

And, if the little ones are wondering why the Easter Bunny hauls around eggs in baskets like no other self-respecting rabbit would do... just tell them this tale:

Easter, the goddess of Spring, according to ancient, oft-told tales, long ago in a whimsical mood and an effort to amuse some little children (what lengths to which we'll all go on occasion) changed her pet bird into a rabbit... so that's why the Easter Bunny builds nests and fills them with Easter eggs!

Which leads us to the question... what do you do with all those brightly colored hard-boiled eggs after the Easter Egg hunt is over? Well, what I often do is this: Refrigerate the left over eggs, tossing out, of course, those that are cracked up or stepped on or half-munched, and after they're well chilled, make:

CAJUN EGGS
(I've also heard this called Scotch Eggs by Brits)

6 hard-boiled eggs, well chilled

¼ to 1 lb. smoked or other sausage

2 beaten eggs

¼ cup flour

1 cup seasoned bread crumbs

Black pepper, salt, if desired, hot pepper sauce.

Wrap the sausage around the eggs. You might want to form the sausage into six sort-of-round patties before doing so. Dip the sausage-covered eggs into flour, then into the beaten egg, then into the seasoned breadcrumbs.

Then let them rest several or so in the refrigerator — this makes all such breaded foods fry better. Then, fry in hot, hot deep fat about 10 minutes, or until you're sure the sausage is fully cooked.

Drain well, serve whole or cut in half or even quartered for "finger food." (Six appetizer servings, unless I'm around.)

P.S. Delicious hot or cold.

District champ Pirates break slump with easy win

By BREARD SNELLINGS
The Pass Christian Pirates baseball team looked confident when they took the field against St. John of Gulfport last Friday.

In warm-ups, the players were whipping the ball around with enthusiasm, shouting encouragement to each other. Maybe it was because they were playing before their home fans, or maybe it was because they were playing a team in their own class (Class A), after five successive games against larger (Class AA) schools.

But whatever the reason, they didn't look like a team that had lost all five of its games, most of them by lopsided scores, and they certainly weren't playing like last year's District 8 champions.

Pitcher Rod Jenkins, one of the many sophomores on coach Joe Campbell's team, didn't pitch like a rookie in the first inning. He set the slide down in order, mixing his slider and fastball well. The infielders handled the ground balls well. Not like previous games, when errors led to unearned runs.

The Pirates looked even better in the bottom of the first.

Raymond Henderson, the first Pirate batter, looked the pitches over carefully, and drew a base on balls.

Ricky Ladner did the same, and his teammates backed him up with loud encouragement. The opposing pitcher didn't have his control yet, and issued another walk.

The third Pirate batter, Jamie Jenkins, took the first pitch down the middle of the plate.

He then watched another pitch go by, right down the middle for strike two.

The third pitch was also down the middle, but Jenkins was thinking walk, and took it for strike three.

The St. John pitcher had apparently found his stuff and it looked like it was going to be a good game.

Then, Richard Dedeaux came to the plate, one of two seniors on the Pirate team that coach Campbell said he "was looking for leadership."

Dedeaux promptly doubled in the gap between right field and center field.

Ben Fields coaxed out a walk, Matt Ladner followed with a sharp single and Ron Ladner flew out deep.

Pitcher Rod Jenkins then came to the plate, and the sophomore delivered a long three-run home run over the rightfield wall.

The entire team jumped up from the dugout and went over to greet him as he crossed home plate, and the Pirates were off and running to a 13-3 victory, their first of the season.

After the game, coach Campbell was ready to talk about the season and savor his first victory.

"This was the first team we've played in our class," said Campbell. "I'm not making excuses, and maybe we should have won some of those first five games, but this is a young team, and maybe now they'll get going."

"Jenkins did a good job for a sophomore," he added. "We don't have any senior pitching and maybe they're just now coming around."

"We're looking to Richard Dedeaux and Jamie Jenkins for senior leadership. They were both All-Deep South Conference last year and our seniors have got to carry a big load if we're going to win district again."

I admit we're not playing as well as last year," said Campbell. "Last year we hit .330, and this year we're only hitting .200 as a team. We've got to start hitting the ball better."

But Campbell was satisfied with the hitting on this particular day: Pass Christian had a 7-1 lead after two innings, following a three-run home run by Dedeaux, then upped the margin to 8-1 after the fourth, as Dedeaux singled in two more runs.

The game was over after four innings, and maybe Joe Campbell was starting to think about another district championship.

Rod Jenkins rounds first (left), then comes home (right) after hitting a first inning home run as Pass Christian romped over St. John, 13-3

Summer youth camps slated

The welcome mat is being rolled out for some 3,000 Mid-South youngsters who will attend a variety of summer youth programs at The University of Mississippi this summer.

The special interest youth camps will be coordinated by the University's Division of Continuing Education, and are designed to sharpen scholastic skills, develop sports competency and enrich leisure time for participants.

The University's second annual computer camps will give students 10 years of age or older who have not started the 12th grade an introduction to computer techniques, programming and languages. Instructors will be members of the University's computer science faculty and staff.

Students seeking to develop academic excellence are registering for the University's two modern language camps. Camp Francis, an intensive language program in conversational French, was offered for the first time last year. This year, Camp Espanol, a similar program for Spanish language students, will be offered, and both will feature such activities as a cooking class, games, athletic events, drama, excursions, films and television, as well as other opportunities to learn more about languages and the people who use them.

Instruction in sports skills will be directed by Rebel head coaches in football, basketball, tennis, baseball and golf, with special sessions led by visiting sports professionals.

A special first-time camp for young Mid-South hunters will offer certification in hunter safety and special demonstrations by nationally-known outdoor sportsmen in all key areas of hunting.

Other annual camps led by professionals will include cheerleading, half-time/time out performance and yearbook production.

Calendar for summer youth camps at Ole Miss is as follows:

Golf camps, May 30-June 4 and June 20-25;
Football camp, June 5-9;
Baseball camps, June 5-9 (ages 10-13) and June 12-16

(ages 14-1984 seniors);
Tennis tournament prep, June 5-10;
Girls basketball, June 5-9 and June 12-16;

Tennis, June 12-17, June 19-24 and June 26-July 1;

Boys basketball, June 19-23 and June 26-30;

Computer camps, June 19-24 and July 17-22; French and Spanish camps, June 19-24; Yearbook clinic, June 20-23; Alumni College, (a family program) June 23-26;

Half-time/Time out, June 26-30;
Cheerleader camps, July 10-14 and July 17-21;

Young hunters camp, July 24-29.

Additional information about registration for any of these camps may be obtained by writing or calling the Division of Continuing Education, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677, telephone 601-232-7282.

Horse Show set

The University of Southern Mississippi will hold its First Annual Spring Horse Show, April 23 and 24, at the newly renovated Equestrian Center.

An All-English show will be held on Apr. 23 and an Open

All-Western show will be on Apr. 24.

A three-year perpetual trophy will be awarded to the high point rider. The trophy must be won three times, not necessarily three years in a row, to be retained permanently.

LEADING HITTER—Kelly Geroux has become a one-man bomb squad for the Pearl River College Wildcats. The former St. Stanislaus baseball star is hitting the ball at a .417 clip with nine home runs in 17 games. Geroux is one of the main reasons the Wildcats have put together a 15-4 overall record and a team batting average of .360. Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Geroux of Bay St. Louis. He has been to bat 48 times, picking up 20 hits, scoring 15 runs and knocking in 23 runs. Playing second base, he has handled the ball 71 times with 37 putouts and 34 assists, committing only one error. He trails only Charles Clifton (.446) in team batting.

SPORTS

Golden Eagles in football

Southern Mississippi football coach Jim Carmody has dates for spring drills and has listed several priorities for the sessions that will conclude with the annual Black-Gold intrasquad game at 1:30 p.m. April 25.

The workout format will be the same as a year ago when Carmody, an assistant at USM for three seasons before coaching in the National Football League (Buffalo Bills) in the 1981 season, returned to become head coach of the Golden Eagles. The schedule calls for practices on March 25, 26, 28, 29 and 30, before a brief break for Easter Holidays.

When workouts resume April 5, drills will be held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays of each week, with scrimmages set for Wednesdays and Saturdays. Some of the scrimmishes may be "closed" drills.

Top priorities include:

—Developing the quarterback position to its fullest, determining the most capable replacement for Reggie Collier;

—Concentration on locating the most capable replacement for tight end Raymond Powell and wide receivers Marc Means and Don Horn, all four-year lettermen;

—Locating "up-front"

defensive people as replacements for starters George Tillman at end, Larry Alford and Charlie Jenkins at the tackle slots, and Mark Carmichael at linebacker (plus tackles Mochie Allen, a four-year letterman, and Mike Justesen, a two-year letterman);

—Replacing four-year letterman cornerback Eddie Ray Walker;

—Replacing punter Bruce Thompson, who handled every single kick for four seasons.

Carmody and his staff will be seeking replacements for 15 departed lettermen, and the number includes 11 who were four-year letter winners.

There are 39 lettermen back from the 1982 club that rallied to a 7-4 finish after a 1-3 start. In addition, there are three players who lettered in '81 but didn't last season because of injuries.

Linebacker Greg Kelley and tight end Jim Brown, both starters when hit by injuries, have been pronounced "fit and ready" for spring work but tackle Kenneth Bentley's status is still uncertain and he will not take part in the off-season drills.

Kelley, hurt in last year's third game (vs Auburn), and Brown, who aggravated an old injury (that kept him out of all but four games in '80) in the second game of '82 (vs Ole Miss), were each awarded an additional year of eligibility when the NCAA approved them as "hardship cases."

Former HNC players lead Phillips College cagers

Phillips College Basketball Team, in their first year of four-year competition, ended their season with a 14-17 record and a third place finish in the nation in the National Little College Athletic Association (NLCAA) competition.

In the pictures are players from Hancock North Central, who led the team this year. Coach Roland Ladner, says

"Even though we finished under 500, I am very pleased, and consider it a very successful season for a first year program."

"In our first year of four year competition, I intentionally scheduled with seven well-established, top flight NCAA Division II clubs and the most successful NAIA clubs—most of these on the road."

"This was done to help better prepare for the National Little College Athletic Association play-off. To advance to the National in the NLCAA, it is set up just like the NCAA or NAIA, you have to win your district."

"We won the Deep South District to advance. In the National Tournament, Phillips defeated Cedars College of North Carolina and Northeast Technical College of Norfolk, Nebraska, and lost in the semi-finals to Concordia College of Texas, the eventual National Champions, and won the consolation for third place over Lamar College of Colorado."

Gene Rich was selected to the NLCAA All-American Team. Charlie Eakins was selected to the NLCAA Tournament Team.

Firebirds upset Bears in soccer

The Firebirds upset the Bears in a regular league soccer playdown game in which both teams played well. The only game played in the Under 8 Division was a crucial one between the Bears and the Firebirds, with the Bears needing a win to stay in the Playdown picture. However, the Firebirds played like a champion team and behind the goals by Ben Schindler and Tony Russo upset the Bears 2-0.

In the Under 10 Division a much improved McDonald's Restaurant played an inspired game to tie Little Italy 2-2 and edge into third place in the Division.

In the Under 12 Division Mary Carter Paints clinched first place when Dr. Murphree, D.D.S. failed to field enough players. Later the Golden Eagles jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the opening kickoff against Mary Carter Paints before the rains came to cancel the game.

In the Under 14 Division Gulf Coast Waste kept their perfect record by shutting out Bay Waveland Tire. Homes of the South had to come from behind to down Playdome 3-1.

The teams going to the District Playdowns on April 23-24 and April 30-May 1 are as follows: Under 8 Division—Purple Knights and Coca Cola; Under 10 Division—Lolacano's and Little Italy;

Babies Don't Thrive in Smoke-filled Wombs

When You're Pregnant, Don't Smoke!

March of Dimes

Under 12 Division—Mary Carter Paints and Dr. Murphree, D.D.S.; Under 12 Division (Girls)—Sea Coast Echo; Under 14 Division—Gulf Coast Waste; Under 16 Division—Homes of the South; and Under 16 Division (Girls)—SportsWorld.

The Board of BASC would like to thank the parents, players, coaches, referees, sponsors and all other volunteers for making this first season a success. BASC hopes that this support will continue for those teams going to the District and State Playdown.

BASC is optimistic in predicting that one or more of its teams will go on to the State level in Vicksburg on May 7-9.

The Board has selected a Logo from the over 40 entrants, and would like to thank all those people who took the time to submit their designs. The winning design was submitted by Roselin Watson of Waveland. Roselin is an Assistant Coach for the Under 8 Division Champion Purple Knights. The design depicts a porpoise playing with a soccer ball, representative of the fun of soccer and the Gulf Coast. Honorable mention goes to Kristine Erickson.

THE FISHIN' HOLE

By BREARD SNELLINGS

Hancock County is an excellent place for finding aquarium fish, both salt and freshwater.

If you like a freshwater aquarium, then go to one of the many creeks north of Kiln, starting just about the Picayune area and working your way north.

The terrain gets a bit more hilly after you reach Picayune, so you find creeks in some areas that are fast-flowing, sandy and filled with interesting little species like darters, pirate perch, shiners, madtoms, pickerel, and of course, small bass, sunfish and catfish.

You can scoop up sand and gravel from one of these creeks for the bottom of your tank. It is not a good idea to put natural vegetation in your tank, since it creates algae on the sides and eventually pollutes the aquarium.

If you have a fishing partner, a few drags of a 16-foot seine over sandy riffles and runs in the creek bed will pick up dusky darters, blackbanded darters and maybe a pirate perch or two. You may or may not recognize these names, but you will appreciate the variety of these fish once you have seen them.

For example, a blackbanded darter is a member of the perch family, about three inches long with alternating black, yellow and white bands. As you go further north, toward Bogalusa and above, you find rainbow darters and harlequin darters in the creeks.

These darters are brightly colored with splashes of red, gold, green and blue and are abundant in riffles and runs of sandy creeks.

Further up the creek, in the still pockets of water filled with grasses, you find pirate perch, madtoms and small bream and bass.

You can find both brindled madtoms and speckled madtoms in abundance, with a few black madtoms in the creeks north of Picayune.

Madtoms are small members of the catfish family and come in different colors. The brindled madtom has alternating bands of red and beige, while the speckled madtom is brown with black freckles.

Pickerel are interesting aquarium fish, and make interesting additions to your tank in the small (under three inches) size. Most area fishermen refer to the larger chain and redbell pickerel as jackfish, and catch them with plugs and spinner baits while fishing for bass.

The small chain pickerel look like a small garfish, and can be found floating on top, usually by vegetation. They are easily caught with a dipnet.

Small crawfish are also a welcome addition to your freshwater aquarium.

These can be found in small creeks and in slow-running streams, with mudbanks and some sand along the side.

St. Paul first in Church League

In the final three days of the season of the Bay Area Church Basketball League, St. Paul clinched first place by defeating OLG #2 54-46 as four players scored in double figures; and then by edging the Baptists in a thriller, 38-34, behind John Steube's 22 points.

Meanwhile second place St. Rose was upset by the Baptists as Greg Carrier scored 16 points in the 50-38 victory; Gary Dorsey for St. Rose having a game high 19 points.

Then St. Rose bombed Christ Episcopal 86-35 with Gary Dorsey hitting for 45 points to more than offset Keith Johnson's 26 points for Christ. St. Rose finished the season with a 46-28 win over OLG #2 with Gary Dorsey leading the way with 26 points. Christ Episcopal split its other two games, downing Meth/Lu 26-24 despite Randy Owens' 13 points; and then losing to OLG #2 38-34 as Marty Perkins had 17 points for the victors.

Pearl goes 18-4-1 in baseball

Pearl River College pushed its baseball record to 18-4-1 with three victories this past week.

The Wildcats beat Meridian 24-1 and 9-3 Sunday and Southwest 19-1 on Monday.

Earlier, PRC swept Jones College, as the Wildcats scored 12 runs on 14 hits with Kelly Geroux of Bay St. Louis leading the way with his eight and ninth home runs of the year in the first game.

Pitcher Mike Herndon of Hattiesburg recorded his fourth win against no losses by allowing only two runs and four hits. The game was called after the fifth inning due to the 10 run mercy rule.

Tim Wheat of Laurel and Jim Walt of Hattiesburg also hit home runs and Charles Clifton of Shelbyville, Ky.; Greg Abadie of Hattiesburg and Greg Rogers of Sandersville collected two hits each.

The Wildcats took the nightcap 6-2 behind the arm of Picayune's Phillip Parsons. Parsons recorded his third win against only one loss. Clifton picked up a double and Tony Lasseter of Jackson hit his fifth round tripper of the year. Greg McMahon of North Forrest picked up two hits in the second win.

The Wildcats have hit 34 home runs in the first 20 games and have a team batting average of better than .340.

Pearl River will entertain Dupage College this Friday and Saturday and host Meridian at 1 p.m. on the Wildcat diamond.

TAX SAVINGS IN THE NICK OF TIME!

SAVE TAX DOLLARS AND PROVIDE FOR YOUR RETIREMENT
WITH A HANCOCK BANK IRA!

Even as you read this message, time is ticking away toward April 15. But Hancock Bank has a plan that can help you cut the taxes you'll pay this year and provide for your retirement.

It's the Hancock Bank Individual Retirement Account, and with it, you can earn interest and defer taxes until your retirement. An individual can set aside up to $2,000, and a working couple can set aside up to $4,000... tax free! And you can do this even if you're covered by another pension plan.

Ask your Hancock representative how an easy-to-open IRA can delay tax day. But hurry... time is running out! And don't forget: right now, your IRA can be eligible for 1982 tax benefits.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of funds from an IRA. Also, the Internal Revenue Service imposes a 10% penalty on the amount withdrawn and the amount withdrawn must be included in taxable income.

NEW SIGNEE—David Palmisano, a 1982 graduate of Bay High School and a four sport letterman for the Tigers, has signed a football scholarship with Pearl River College. Palmisano, Bay High's most valuable player in football this past year, just completed spring training with the wildcats, and head coach J.C. Arban said "the looked great as a defensive back and receiver." He played quarterback, running back and defensive back, while lettering in track, baseball and basketball at Bay High.

SIGNS SCHOLARSHIP—Bobby DeVaughn, former quarterback at Hancock North Central High School and Pearl River Junior College, has signed a grant-in-aid to play football for West Virginia State College. He will be majoring in education.

Palmisano, Lacoste among signees

Pearl River College has signed 25 players to scholarships for the 1983 football season, including David Palmisano of Bay High and Dennis Lacoste of Hancock North Central.

According to J.C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach, the new additions will join 32 returning sophomores from last year's 6-4 team.

"We have signed some excellent talent," Arban said. "He been in contact with several other players within the district and I may sign a couple more but this is probably the list, at least until August practice begins."

Arban said he is expecting to have 10-15 more walk-ons tryout in August and some of the area players who have signed with senior colleges may decide to try Pearl River instead.

The Wildcats will be able to field a starting sophomore offense and defense, however, the freshmen will get to see plenty of action.

The 1983 Pearl River recruits include:

McCarthy, Oak Grove; Steve Odom, N. Forrest; Jonathan Robertson, Pearl River Central; George Ray, Pearl River Central; Dennis Lacoste, Hancock North Central; David Ham, East Marion; Greg Newton, East Marion; Chip Lofton, Columbia; Willie Peters, Columbia; Clayton Pope, Columbia; Kevin Middleton, Columbia; Darren Brock, Lusher, La.; Rusty Pigott, Foley, Ala.; Mark Applewhite, Purvis.

The sophomore defensive letter-winners are ends Richard Byrd of Jackson, Chris Jackson of Theodore, Ala., and Willie B. Moore of Noxapater, tackle Fred Baskin of Meridian, linebacker Greg Haeusler of Destin, Fla., and backs Scott Allen of Vicksburg and Ricky Phillips of Noxapater.

The freshman letter owners are tight end Robert Ray Stallings of Magnolia, defensive end Barrett Coleman of Marro, La., linebacker Greg Damper of Mendenhall, nose guard Willie Portis of Meridian, and backs James Cooper of Raymond and Bobo Harris of Vicksburg.

54 get football letters at Southern

Eleven four-year letterman, a school record number, are included among the 54 members of the 1982 University of Southern Mississippi football team who received letters.

First-year head coach Jim Carmody's list, approved and announced by athletic director Roland Dale, includes 15 seniors, 15 juniors, and 18 sophomores, and six freshmen.

Six players from the defensive unit and four off the offense, plus punter Bruce Thompson of Hattiesburg, Ala., are the 11 who earned their fourth "M." From the defense are end George Tillman of Natchez, tackles Larry Alford of Foxworth, Mochie Allen of McComb, and Charlie Jenkins of Mendenhall; linebacker Mark Carmichael of Mobile, and cornerback Eddie Ray Walker of Pascagoula.

Quarterback Reggie Collier of d'Iberville, wide receivers Marc Means of Jackson and Don Horn of Tougaloo, and tight end Raymond Powell of Columbia, are the four-year offensive letter-winners.

Other senior letterman are defensive end Archie Henderson of Winona, defensive tackle Mike Justesen of Mobile, Ala., linebacker Gary Williams of Magee, and offensive tackle Charlie Carter of Atlanta, Ga.

The junior lettermen include five from the defense, nine from the attack unit and place-kicker Steve Clark of Jonesboro, Ga. From the offense are wide receiver Louis Lipps of Reserve, La., tight end Mike Landrum of Columbia, tackles Glen Howe of New Albany and Dwayne Massey of Jackson, guard Scott Seay of St. Walton Beach, Fla., centers Steve Carmody of Hattiesburg and Mike Poulin of Mobile, Ala., and fullbacks Neal Alexander of Purvis and Clemon Terrell of Hattiesburg.

From the defense are nose guard Jerald Baylis of Jackson, linebacker Rod O'Barr of Birmingham, Ala., and backs Bud Brown of DeKalb, Mike Schiro of New Orleans, and Bruce Miller of Ackerman.

Seven defensive players and 10 from the offense, plus place-kicker Shelton Kennington of Grenada, make up the list of sophomores. From the offense are tackles Randy Campbell of Vicksburg and Chris Haag of Chatham, Ala., guards Robert duPont of Marro, La., and Fred Richards of Bessemer, Ala., center Lehman Alley of Birmingham, Ala., quarterback Robert Duskworth of Biloxi, and running backs Sam De-jarnette of Selma, Ala., Mitch Dole of Pascagoula, Tracy Gamble of Sandy Hook and Fred Huddleston of Plantersville.

The sophomore defensive letter-winners are ends Richard Byrd of Jackson, Chris Jackson of Theodore, Ala., and Willie B. Moore of Noxapater, tackle Fred Baskin of Meridian, linebacker Greg Haeusler of Destin, Fla., and backs Scott Allen of Vicksburg and Ricky Phillips of Noxapater.

The freshman letter owners are tight end Robert Ray Stallings of Magnolia, defensive end Barrett Coleman of Marro, La., linebacker Greg Damper of Mendenhall, nose guard Willie Portis of Meridian, and backs James Cooper of Raymond and Bobo Harris of Vicksburg.

Waveland American Legion gives $6,000 to Pearl River College

The Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77 of Waveland presented Pearl River College with a $6,000 check this past Monday to be used as scholarships for Hancock County students.

The $6,000 will be divided into 12 $500 scholarships and issued to six academic and six vocational technical Hancock County students who will be attending Pearl River this fall.

The scholarships will be awarded to students based on need for financial assistance, academic grades or ratings, character, leadership, ability and initiative.

A committee at Pearl River College will select the 12 Hancock County students later

Seal said applications for the scholarships must be turned in to Pearl River College no later than April 3. Transcript records must also be forwarded to PRC.

The Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Post No. 77 scholarship is the largest individual donation made to Pearl River College. During the past three years the Post 77 donations have totaled more than $16,000.

Meridian takes PRC golf tourney

LAGNIAPPE OF THE MONTH!!

If you listed all the features you'd like in your next home and then looked this lovely 3 bedroom, 3 bath waterfront, brick and frame over, you'd have some extras that you could call lagniappe!!! First! Esther Williams swimming pool in the spacious landscaped yard with moss laden oaks and pines, boat house and slip. When you enter this breath taking combination Great room with fireplace and formal dining, you know this is not an ordinary home!! The big Master bedroom, with it's large walk-in dressing room and 2 compartment bath with luxurious carpet is on a second step-up level, as in the kitchen and breakfast area holding all the built-ins you can dream of, highlighted lots of beautiful custom made blonde cabinets. The children's wing on the lower level (with second heat pump) has 2 large bedrooms (each with it's own bath). Thick pile carpets and walk-in closets and utility room with lots of features. I forgot to mention delightful hidden built-in desk behind the shutter doors in the front entry, and also attached double carport and storage. Now here's the Lagniappe: all of this for $77,500. with existing assumable loan. Make appointment to look this over today and count the features I failed to mention.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR THAT EXECUTIVE TYPE COUNTRY ESTATE...

We have 3,300 sq. ft. of the finest constructed and most luxurious features for the really hard to please and particular buyer. It is on a main artery, about 15 minutes from New Orleans, La. and the Bay. Call us for additional information and an appointment to see this unusual buy!!!

Pass schools seeking vo-tech agreement with Long Beach

Superintendent LeRoy Lizana told the Pass Christian School Board at its March meeting he is confident that some progress has been made in the boards' efforts to establish a vocational education program for the school district.

Lizana reported preliminary discussions have been initiated between officials of the Pass Christian School District and the Long Beach School District on feasibility of a joint venture by the two districts to establish a vocational program that would meet the needs of the two districts.

Prior to the current school term Pass Christian students were transported to the Jefferson Davis Junior College campus for vocational classes.

This arrangement, although less than ideal was considered "better than nothing."

The program did not allow for ample classroom time due to the amount of time necessary for travel.

However, the program has been discontinued. The school district was informed, at the beginning of the school term, that the high school vocational program would not be continued at Jefferson Davis Junior College.

Lizana stated that perhaps an arrangement could be worked with the Harrison County Board of Supervisors to allow the districts to use county owned land in the Long Beach Industrial Park to build a facility that would adequately serve both districts.

He indicated that it is possible for the Junior College District to construct such a facility that would serve high school students during the day and could be used as an adult education center for the Junior College during the evening and night hours.

According to Lizana an arrangement of this nature would not be unique as other junior college districts have entered into agreements with their area high schools to provide vocational education for their students.

He cited the agreement that exists between the Hinds County Junior College District and the students for Rankin and Pearl county school districts.

In presenting each board member a copy of the agreement between Hinds Junior College District and the Rankin-Pearl County School Districts, Lizana stated that their agreement was an example of type of arrangement that could exist between the Jefferson Davis Junior College District and the Pass Christian and Long Beach School Districts if the trustees of the Junior College District and the trustees of the two affected districts were to agree on the details.

Lizana requested and received permission from the board to proceed with the talks with the superintendent of the Long Beach School District about this matter.

June Markwalder, supervisor of special education said the process is not clear to administrators and school board to discipline a special education student.

The ultimate effects of the 94-142 Handicap Laws and the Mattie T. Consent decree is a dual standard of rules that can be applied whenever discipline becomes necessary by the administration.

According to Markwalder, the law is specific in stating what the district can and cannot do in removing a special education student from his educational environment.

She stated that the law allows a maximum three day suspension for any one offense and does not allow for serial suspensions.

In addition, following the three day suspension the district is required to review his educational placement of the student to determine if the placement is appropriate for his needs.

There are provisions in the law for longer suspensions and/or expulsion, however, the school district remains liable for the students education, as the law stipulates that all handicapped between the ages of six and 18 are entitled to a free appropriate public education.

Lizana stated that he has been in consultation with the board attorney relative to this matter and he is confident that he and the attorney will explore all legal avenues to resolve the situation.

He added that the district will thoroughly investigate the in-school suspension program that has worked satisfactorily in other school districts.

"The adoption of an in-school suspension program will necessitate additional staff, however, if this is our only means of legally resolving the problem, we will have to seriously consider this as an alternative," according to Lizana.

HIGH RANKINGS
The board was given a report on the statistical ranking of the district as compiled by the State Department of Education for the 1981-82 school term.

Of the 154 school districts in the state the Pass Christian School District ranked second in the state in wealth per APU ($75,989) and Ad Valorem Tax Collected per APU (1,060); the district ranked fourth in average current expenditures per pupil ADA ($2,323) and fourth in average current expenditures, per pupil for instructional cost ($1,314); the report from local sources (51.22), and 152 in percent of revenue from state (44.90) and federal sources (4.69).

The Pass Christian School District ranked 19 in the state in average salaries for instructional personnel.

The Board voted to accept the resignations of Robert

Plants, social studies teacher at Pass Christian High School;

Brenda Fairley, special education teacher, Pass Christian Middle School; Linda Owen, English teacher, Pass Christian Middle School; Phyllis Skinner, first grade teacher, DeLisle Elementary School; and Bertha Rice and Earl Conway, bus drivers.

Bills, invoices and payrolls for the month of February were approved. Bills for the month totaled $33,859.

The breakdown by fund categories included— District Maintenance $20,608; ECIA Chapter II $310; Consortium $162; Indo-Chinese Assistance Fund $55; P.L. 94-142 $190; and, Transportation $55.

Payrolls for the month of February totaled $177,573.

The payroll accounts charged were— District Maintenance $56,618; Minimum Program $100,673; P.L. 94-142 $1,657; Chapter I $7,284; Cafeteria $10,473; and Student Activity $665.

In other business the Board: —Adopted a line and staff policy and set of policies governing special education.

—Received a report from Lizana on the progress made in the district's efforts to establish an administrative salary schedule.

—Approved an athletic activity report which indicated that the Pass Christian High School and Pass Christian Middle School net profit from basketball was $2,016.

—Approved the selection of the ECIA Chapter I Advisory Board. The Advisory Board Members approved were Mrs. Sadonia Watson, Mrs. Ella Broome, Mrs. Connie Jenkins, Mrs. Adriene Janet Dedeaux, Mrs. Pauline Dedeaux, and Mrs. Ramona Swider.

The enrollment report for the month shows that there were 1,393 students with an ADA of 1,301.20.

This figure, 1,393 students, is a 36 student increase over the figure for the sixth school month of the 1981-82 school term.

According to the superintendent the dismal 93 percent of attendance experienced by the district during the sixth school month was due largely to the number of inclement days during the month and to the rash of illnesses experienced by the students.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for April 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the board room.

Gifted Program applications due

Applications for the University of Southern Mississippi's summer residential studies program for gifted children are due today.

Summer Gifted Studies Program, where gifted students in grades 5-9 live and study at USM, is designed to meet the unique needs of the gifted. The program is conducted by the Center for Gifted Studies in the Department of Special Education.

The program will have two sessions: Session I, June 5-17; Session II, June 19 through July 1.

Any gifted student entering grades 5 through 9 in the fall of 1983 with an IQ score of 120 or above on an individually administered intelligence test is eligible.

Applications may be obtained through local school personnel or by contacting Dr. Frances A. Karnes at (601) 266-5236.

COMPRETTE ELECTED—The Mississippi Arts Fair for The Handicapped recently held its annual meeting at the State Capitol in Jackson to plan the 1983 Arts Fair and to elect officers. Representative J. P. Compretta of Bay St. Louis, left, was elected president. Compretta has been active in the MAFH and has served as a board member for several years. Other officers are, from left, Compretta; Rep. Ralph Doxey, Holly Springs, outgoing past-president; Miss Dana Dyson, Brandon, secretary; Rep. William Andrews III, Purvis, immediate past-president; Rep. Charles Lipman, Pascagoula, vice-president; Sen. Tommy Golott, Biloxi, treasurer; and Dr. Randy Henrix, Oxford, executive director of MAFH and director of the North Mississippi Retardation Center. The annual Mississippi Arts Fair for the Handicapped will be held at the Biloxi Community Center June 7-9. The City of Biloxi and the South Mississippi Retardation Center at Long Beach are co-sponsors.

Bob Joiner announces for re-election

Southern District Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner told supporters Saturday he will be a candidate for re-election.

Joiner, 53, joined more than 800 supporters at a "Commissioner Bob Joiner Appreciation Day Barbecue" at the Municipal Auditorium in Waynesboro.

Joiner is completing his first term as highway commissioner for the Southern District which includes 30 counties.

Joiner said since becoming highway commissioner, he has developed an aggressive four-lane highway building program plus a superior primary and secondary road rebuilding program.

"More road construction was put under contract in the District than in any other four-year period," the incumbent said.

BOB JOINER

"We have put a businessman's approach to the building of our state's roads," Joiner said. "It has been a tough job to stretch the dollars we have had available during these difficult economic times, but every dollar that was available has been utilized to the maximum. We have gotten a dollar and a dime's worth of road for every dollar expended."

Joiner noted that during the past four years the current three-member highway commission has worked in harmony and efficiency has improved.

"The old days of poor equipment and slip-shod planning and workmanship won't do as we plan, build and improve our modern road system."

"Think back a few years when major highways were filled with pot-holes and dangerous intersections. Travel to another part of the state was long, hard and often dangerous," Joiner said. "Today we are blessed with an improved road system that is both modern and efficient."

Joiner said if re-elected, he would work to further improve this system. "There are still a lot of areas that need work."

The basic planning is done, but improvements must always be made. We need to continue to build and develop our roadways as they are important and, in fact, vital to Mississippi's economy.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi is considering applying to the Governor's Office of Federal State Programs, Department of Planning and Policy, for a Small Cities Community Development Block Grant. The State of Mississippi has been allocated approximately 30 million dollars that will be made available to cities and counties on a competitive basis to undertake eligible community development activities. These funds must be used for one of the following purposes:

1. To benefit low and moderate income persons; or
2. To aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight; or
3. To meet other community development needs having a particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health or welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available to meet such needs.

The activities for which these funds may be used are in the areas of housing, public facilities and services, and economic development. More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements, and the rating system will be provided at a public hearing which will be held at City Hall, Second Street, Bay St. Louis, Ms on April 7, 1983, at 7:00 p.m.

The purpose of this hearing will be to obtain citizen input into the development of the application.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

MORTGAGE DELINQUENCY

QUESTION: I have recently become unemployed and am having a difficult time making my monthly payment. In fact, I am two months behind in my payment. Can you offer any help? J. E. McComb

Dear J. E.:

The economic crunch we have faced the last two years has caused and is continuing to cause a record number of homeowners to fall behind in their mortgage payments. As a means of improving the difficult plight you currently find yourself in, consider taking the following steps immediately.

First, and foremost, call or preferably visit your lender. Avoiding the inevitable will not solve your problem, and your lender will be more apt to work with you if he feels you are concerned enough to try and correct the delinquent payments before they become even larger and more difficult to work out. Be prepared to discuss your problem in detail, including why you are behind — in your case a job layoff. While it may be of little help to you, rest assured that you are not the only unemployed persons behind on your house payment.

Be frank about your normal monthly expenses and your current resources, such as unemployment benefits, savings and any other income you may have available. If possible, be able to estimate for the lender how long you expect to be unemployed. Certainly this will influence the agreed-to solution you work out with the lender.

In negotiating a repayment plan, your lender may offer to temporarily reduce or suspend your regular monthly mortgage payment. Or he may reduce the delinquency by increasing your payments over an extended period of time. Finally, he may choose to completely rework the mortgage plan altogether.

Whatever you do, try to negotiate a plan that benefits and also is satisfactory to the lender. Remember, your lender also loses if the property goes to foreclosure. Neither of you want that to happen.

IS BROKER A REALTOR?

QUESTION: People in the real estate business constantly refer to themselves as realtors. Recently a real estate broker told me he was not a realtor. I thought all were. What gives? D. S. Columbus

Dear D. S.:

Your broker friend was correct in that all real estate brokers are not realtors.

In fact, of all the people licensed to broker real estate in the United States, only about one-third are realtors.

The National Association of Realtors (NAR) is the largest and best-known real estate organization in the world with a current membership in excess of 600,000.

Active brokers who maintain membership in the association may use the term realtor and their salespersons hold membership on a realtor-associate status.

There is a recent trend for boards to provide only one class of membership to both brokers and salespersons, whereby all board members are realtors and the realtor-associate classification is eliminated.

The organization is represented through state associations and 1,700 local boards.

You should be particularly aware of three features of the organization which might be important enough to make you consider associating with a broker who holds active membership in the NAR.

First, membership in the National Association of Realtors requires you to subscribe to the organization's Code of Ethics, which is a strict guide of ethical practice and serves as a guideline for practitioners.

Second, the association provides extensive educational programs through its nine professional institutes, societies and councils.

Third, the association participates actively as a spokesman for the real estate industry. A full-time staff headquartered in Washington, D. C., provides testimony and expresses the NAR's position on important real estate related issues before Congress and various regulatory agencies.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosi, P.O. Box 206, University, MS 38677.

Ag Affairs

by Ed Blake

By ED BLAKE SOCIAL SECURITY DILEMMA

Little Jack Horner sat in a corner eating his Christmas pie. He stuck in his thumb, and pulled out a plum...

This simplistic idea as a nursery rhyme today has come back to haunt millions of cornered Americans who in 1935 inaugurated a Social Security program devised as an austere retirement-insurance program based on latter-year benefits closely tied to their contributions over many years.

What has happened is that the system has been grossly expanded beyond its original purpose. It has been given the conflicting goal of a retirement insurance and welfare program, and the original link between an individual's payments and his earned benefits has been replaced with Utopian ideals far from economic reality.

Today, average retirees can expect to receive benefits that by any measure are far in excess of lifetime contributions. The current average ratio of benefits paid to combined employee/employer contributions plus interest is approximately five to one. Thus, Social Security, faced with spending much more than it takes in, stands quite naturally at the door of bankruptcy.

In 1982 Social Security benefit payments totaled $191.2 billion to 36 million recipients. Of these, 20.6 million were retirees, 2.7 million were disabled, and 12.8 million were dependents.

In 1950 there were 16 workers per beneficiary; today there are 3.5.

Liberalization of Social Security benefits commenced in 1956 when disability insurance was added. In 1961 men taking early retirement at age 62 were added. In 1966 Medicare was assigned to the Social Security program.

The 1970's saw further liberalization occur as benefits were increased by 20 percent and future increases were made automatic.

Since 1960 total benefits have grown three times faster than this nation's gross national product. Since 1949, average wages have increased 470 percent; average income taxes have increased 570 percent; and average Social Security taxes have increased 3,960 percent.

Social Security's percent of the federal budget has grown from 7.3 percent in 1955 to 22.1 percent in 1981, while today our Social Security trust funds are losing over $30,000 per minute in the United States.

Unfortunately there are many misconceptions about the program today. Some people regard it as a full national retirement program guaranteed to keep persons at the middle income level throughout their retirement years. But the fact is, Social Security was intended only as a partial payment as a foundation for retirement planning.

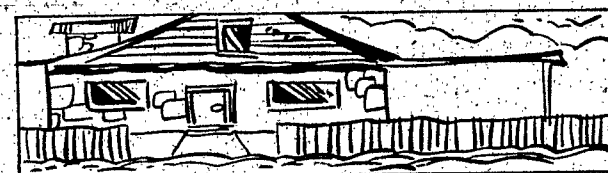

Still others think of the program as an insurance deal with individual contributions held in investment trust funds. No substance to this bubble! The system is a pay-as-you-go one with money paid by employees monthly being sent directly to today's beneficiaries.

And those who still won't face up to the seriousness of the situation must realize that the retirement and disability trust funds will need somewhere between $60 and $127 billion between 1983-87.

To meet Social Security obligations for the post World War II baby boom era with today's benefit structure, Social Security would have to have $1.5 trillion in the trust funds today and hold that money throughout the year 2015.

If we stay on our present course, by 2035 the combined payroll tax rate will need to be between 29 to 45 percent.

But if we choose to reform the system and make it work, we will have to separate the insurance and welfare functions and re-establish a reasonable benefit plan based on real Social Security tax contributions — as it was meant to be.

A house with small doors and windows is more energy-efficient than a structure with large window and door areas.

The students enrolled in the Gifted Studies Program at Waveland Elementary School from grades four and five spent a unique hands-on learning experience in photography during a recent two-day workshop conducted by Ronald Thomas and Patrice Box-Pope at the Bay Jr. High School.

From the time the students arrived at the newly constructed photo lab of the Bay-Waveland Public School District, independent work was emphasized. Each student produced their own work for future exhibition. They began by making their own pin-hole camera out of round oatmeal boxes, foil, and a little tape. Each loaded their camera in the dark room then proceeded outside to time their exposure.

Once back in the lab, each of the students unloaded their camera and developed their own film. Some made great mistakes and some made great photos. Each was a learning experience.

During the workshop, each student made a photogram, a picture made by placing objects on an unexposed sheet of photographic paper and then exposing the paper to light.

After processing, the objects' impressions appear in white on a black background.

Students also developed film and printed pictures using the photographic enlarger and dryer.

Concluding the workshop was a demonstration in photo painting. This is a process which was very popular before color photography was invented. In this process, a black and white print is actually "hand-painted" and results in a print which is a cross between photography and oil painting. Mr. Ronald Thomas is among the very few who still practice this unique form of art in our area.

Thomas is a professional photographer and currently serves as photographer for the Bay Jr. High School Yearbook.

Box-Pope, Gifted Studies Instructor at Waveland Elementary School, has done extensive study and work in the field of Art as well as Education. Her art has been acclaimed at numerous showings and much of her work has been featured in art magazines and texts.

Good Psychology

Are you a daydreamer? No need to be ashamed, psychologists say. Your waking musings aren't just a waste of time. They can often work for you—to meet the stress of life and even solve problems. Nearly everybody else daydreams too! Another way to ease tension is to sit back and relax with a nice cup of hot tea. It's a pleasant accompaniment to any daydreamy afternoon.

ETV Brief

CROSSFIRE

Crossfire, a lively interchange of political viewpoints with liberal Tom Braden and conservative Pat Buchanan, now airs live at 6:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, on CNN.

CNN is carried on Hancock Cable's Ch. 10.

Viewers in the Eastern United States can now see hosts Braden and Buchanan lock horns early in the evening, as they discuss the day's top news stories in a point-counterpoint style.

Provocative newsmaker guests spark the political debate between liberal and conservative advocates.

Recent Crossfire guests have included Richard M. Nixon, Raymond J. Donovan, David Stockman and James Watt.

Mississippi Brownbuilder Liz O'Cain: One of the Best

Liz O'Cain, from Jackson, is helping build local economic growth and progress as part of Brown & Root's worldwide engineering and construction team.

Liz joined Brown & Root in 1981 as a document control clerk and is now a subcontract administrator. A graduate of Pascagoula High School, she is currently working toward a business degree at Jackson County Junior College. In her spare time, Liz enjoys photography and travel.

Another thing about Liz: she's one of the best. She's helping Brown & Root do a better job, because she knows her job and gets it done right.

Open Shop, Open Opportunity

Brownbuilders like Liz share with all of us a feeling of pride in individual contributions to the total success of every project on which we work. Brown & Root's open shop policy means open opportunity for people to do their best. We offer training in valuable skills and reward good work with advancement that's based on the individual's ability and merit. That way we get the best people at every job level.

The Community Benefits

Through our local offices, we offer employment to a high percentage of community residents. The dollars they earn circulate locally in sales, savings and taxes, benefiting business and government. The additional skills and experience they acquire are lasting community benefits.

News Brief

SUMMER CAMP

Gulf Coast Junior College will offer a summer science camp Monday through Friday, June 20-24, at the Perkinston Campus, announced Dr. David Schwab.

Schwab, camp director, said the annual event is open to students who have completed the seventh grade through high school. The program includes labs, field trips, lectures, seminars and recreation.

Deadline for applicants is Friday, June 10. Camp fee is $85 which covers room, board, tuition, and day and night supervision. For more information contact Schwab through the admissions office at Perkinston, 928-5211.

NOTICE SICK PEOPLE

Have you ever noticed how sick people are so easily irritated, upset, and often nervous and tense. It doesn't have to be sick nerves or emotional problems alone that create these reactions, and in many cases it isn't that at all. You see, when the body is sick or in pain, the mind can be overcome with a feeling of the unknown and fear, bringing about extreme nervousness and anxiety. However, for every sickness there must be an internal cause. A chiropractic examination and spinal therapy, if thorough so as not to miss the basic underlying cause of illness, the sick person or the nervousness. That's why Chiropractic care has proved to be so effective in caring for the emotionally upset, nervous and mental problems. If nerve interference is creating sickness in the body, we have found it also to be responsible for creating nervousness. Chiropractic is the safest, most conservative care that should be applied in the majority of these problems first.

LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

The Application deadline for the University of Southern Mississippi's Leadership Studies program is March 31. For additional information contact Dr. Frances Karnes, (601) 266-5236.

HONOR INITIATE

Leslie Ann Staehle of Bay St. Louis was recently initiated into Pi Sigma Alpha political science honor society at The University of Mississippi.

Pi Sigma Alpha honor society is an additional means of recognizing academic excellence among political science majors and of further stimulating scholarship and interest in this field.

ZANCA ON TOUR

Tom Zanca, son of Jane M. Zanca of Bay St. Louis, will be a participant in the Macalester College Concert Choir's five-state spring tour from March 25 through April 1.

Macalester is in St. Paul, Minn.

The choir, directed by Dale Warland, professor of music and director of choral activities, will perform a program of traditional and contemporary music including new works by Macalester Concert Choir alumni Clyde Thomson '69 and Cary John Franklin '79.

The Macalester Concert Choir has established itself as one of the leading college choirs in the United States. It has toured many major cities and performed in Europe.

Macalester College is a small, selective undergraduate liberal arts college, affiliated with the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The college, founded in 1874, is known for its diverse student body, its academic use of the metropolitan area resources, its extensive international programs, and its tradition of service and involvement in the community.

NEW DEGREES

Belhaven College will offer two new degrees in music beginning in the 1993 Fall Semester.

A Bachelor of Arts degree in Church Music and a Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education will be added to the college's music curriculum.

OPERA STAR—Bay St. Louis native Ellen Hazeur stars as Carmen in a production of the Bizet opera by the Xavier University Opera Theater in New Orleans last Saturday and Sunday. Corporal of Dragoons and Carmen's jealous lover is played by Michael Thomas. Miss Hazeur, sophomore music major at Xavier, is a graduate of Our Lady's Academy and daughter of Emile Hazeur of Bay St. Louis and Lucy Hazeur of Pass Christian. Miss Hazeur plays keyboard and is a featured vocalist with Total Control, pop rock group composed of fellow Xavier students. She is a member of the Xavier University Jazz Band as well as the university chorus which will appear at the St. Augustine Gymnasium in Bay St. Louis Monday, April 11. Miss Hazeur, who holds music and academic scholarships at the university, appeared in last year's Opera Theater presentation of The Marriage of Figaro. The theater is under the direction of Laverne Monette. (Xavier Opera Theater photo).

School certifies Eadie as master cake decorator

Mary Ann Eadie of Pass Christian has successfully completed a two week master course in cake decorating from the Wilton School of Cake Decorating and Confectionery Art in Woodridge, Ill.

Ms. Eadie was one of 18 graduates from many parts of the United States and South America to complete the first course held at the school's Woodridge facility.

The Wilton School of Cake Decorating, established in Chicago in 1929, has trained hundreds of students from all over the world in the art of cake decorating and design since its establishment.

The master course is designed for the cake decorating shop owner, teacher, baker, caterer, chef or enthusiast.

Students learn the fundamentals of cake design, how to "paint" with icing, sugar molding, figure piping, string-work, and boarder work.

In addition, students develop skills in creating a wide assortment of flowers, from quick and easy drop flowers to delicate apple blossoms, daisies, lilies, carnations, even the American Beauty Rose.

Techniques demonstrated first by a professional decorator, are then practiced by the students under the supervision of expert teachers.

During the course Mary Ann and her classmates each designed and decorated a novelty cake, and as a final project, each class member used the skills learned in 70 hours of class time to create and decorate a tiered wedding cake.

The Wilton School offers additional courses in advanced decorating techniques while beginning cake decorating classes are held at department and craft stores.

Information about classes can be obtained by writing The Wilton School, 2240 West 75th Street, Woodridge, Ill. 60517.

The Invisible Pipeline Connection

Imagine 9000 miles of steel pipe between hundreds of natural gas fields and Gulf South distribution points.

Imagine it because you can't see it. It's buried underground, virtually invisible. But it represents a billion-dollar investment that has made natural gas a way of life in the Gulf South.

It's our pipeline connection.

But it doesn't connect our natural gas to you. We don't drill or produce oil or gas so everything we deliver we buy under contract from others.

We buy trillions of cubic feet of natural gas for our customers and we try to buy on the best possible terms, for the present and for the future. But the price of gas has risen steadily for the last 20 years and particularly over the last five.

It's the biggest problem we have because we're only the pipeline connection between those who sell and those who buy. Price concerns us as much as it does you.

And as natural gas grows more valuable, the need for conservation grows more imperative. Conserve. The economic future of our region depends on natural gas. What we save today will be needed tomorrow.

The New Funk & Wagnalls Illustrated Wildlife Encyclopedia is the most complete collection of wildlife information ever published in the English language.

A COMPLETE NATURE SET—FROM A TO Z. This 24 volume hard-cover collection explores the world of the wild, with little-known facts about creatures you only thought you knew—and some you've never heard of. Detailed background on all sorts of birds, beasts, insects, reptiles; fish, even domestic animals and pets. Information about endangered species and their quest for survival. Major sections on complete environmental regions—and how creatures live and die in the delicate balance. It's learning with life-like photographs and color illustrations that almost breathe. It's a wild offer at a very tame price. Start your collection today.
